Ask HN: Idea validation? - stefantalpalaru I'd like to hear your thoughts about the new apps / web sites that validate ideas, specially since the late 90's were a period of continuous innovation, especially in the area of the Internet. ===== Grustaf I think there is a huge difference between ideas, and companies. If you had a really great idea for a product, then you probably have the skills and connections to get it built. This is not the case for ideas. Your idea might be pretty great, but there is a very large chance that it won't turn out to be a viable product. You might have a lot of skills and connections and be able to get it built, but the reality is that you will still need lots of money, connections and time to make this happen. I know a lot of people who
